Dear Students,

During this monsoon season, it's crucial to prioritize your health. With increased humidity and stagnant water, the risk of infections and waterborne diseases arise. Always ensure your food is fresh and properly cooked. Avoid street food as it can be contaminated. Drink only boiled or filtered water to stay away from the water borne diseases. Wash your hands regularly, especially before eating. By being mindful of what you eat and maintaining good hygiene, you can enjoy the season while staying healthy. Be vigilant for early signs of respiratory illness and fever. Good health is a valuable asset.

As our country celebrates its 78th Independence Day on 15th August this year, let's unite in our efforts to create a disease

- free and pollution free India.
